PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Leadership courses provide students opportunities interested in volunteered elected/appointed campus or community positions. Leadership training will also be provided through outside organization and conference opportunities. The courses emphasize leadership theories, governing structures, policies, and operations within an organization. Personnel interactions are also introduced (through application and role-playing scenarios) to understand leadership roles and responsibilities, leadership decisions affecting an organization, and managing/resolving conflicts. Students will obtain practical leadership experience through participation in campus committees and community activities. Leadership training will also be provided through outside organizations and conferences. Leadership courses are designed to provide opportunities for social and cultural interactions among students, to develop leadership and responsibilities.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES

Employment Concentration

All career opportunities listed are representative careers in each field. There are no guaranteed positions for students completing these programs. (See: www.onetonline.org)

With the Leadership Development Employment Concentration Certificate, a student will get the opportunity to find out his/her leadership strength and will learn to use them in career challenges like fostering staff involvement and increasing work performance. With the certificate, the student will gain competency level and the broad knowledge and skills that are required to become a professional in any field. After finishing the certificate, students can seek careers in management and supervisory positions.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Learn to lead and develop a strong foundation for chosen endeavors.
- Develop and display personal communication and leadership skills.
- Support and engage in student life and campus for community leadership.
- Analyze, plan and organize complex problems and complex settings cooperatively to promote teamwork and community involvement.

EMPLOYMENT CONCENTRATION

The Leadership Development Employment Concentration Certificate is a 12 unit certificate for MSJC students interested in further developing their leadership, people management, and communication skills. Completion of this ECC helps students to obtain practical tools for effective decision making, discover strengths, enhance student capacity to lead ethically and effectively, and obtain practical knowledge of professionalism. The Leadership Development ECC recipients are recognized at the end of the year Student Recognition Celebration (with many other leaders and student organization).
